Adult son charged in death of parents in Laurel

Howard County police have charged the adult son of a Laurel couple with killing his parents inside their home.

Craig Dennis White, 30, has been charged with first- and second-degree murder and assault in the death of his father Glen White, 66, and mother Linda White, 61. All three lived together in the residence in the 9500 block of Queens Guard Court.

Police went to the home around 6:15 p.m. Sept. 1 to check on the welfare of the residents after it was reported that they did not show up at an expected meeting yesterday. Officers arrived at the home and found Glen White deceased in a bedroom with what appeared to be a stab wound and Linda White deceased in the basement with what appeared to be blunt force trauma.

Through investigation, detectives identified the couple's son, Craig White, as a suspect. They located Craig White last night in Columbia and initiated a traffic stop. He was taken into custody at that time and charged this morning.

He is currently in the booking process at the Howard County Detention Center.
